

Out of work?

The Workforce Development Centers of Riverside County

The Workforce Development Centers provide a comprehensive range of employment and job preparation services in partnership with state and local agencies and organizations. These services benefit job seekers, laid off workers, youth, individuals currently working, veterans, people with disabilities, and employers. Services provided include:

- JOB SEARCH ASSISTANCE
- JOB SKILLS ASSESSMENT
- CREATING A RESUME
- INTERVIEW SKILLS TRAINING

The Workforce Development Centers website is www.rivcojobs.com. EDD also provides an online job database at www.caljobs.ca.gov for employment opportunities.

THE RIVERSIDE DEPARTMENT OF CHILD SUPPORT SERVICES COULD HELP

Our office will review an order even if it was reviewed or adjusted recently if there has been a significant change in circumstance such as an involuntary unemployment. Once our office determines that an order qualifies for review, a new child support amount will be calculated. The review and modification process should be completed within 180 days and once started, cannot be stopped. In addition, our office may also review your case to determine if you qualify for a possible compromise of arrears. To request a review, please contact our office or visit our website at the website address provided below.

Please see the News and Events page of our website for upcoming events and promotions.

Job Search assistance, Job Skills assessment, Creating a resume, and Interview Training Skills are available through the Riverside One Stop Career Centers. A listing of the One Stop Centers in Riverside County is provided on the reverse side of this flyer.

Help for Displaced Workers

Have you lost your job, or have your work hours been cut?
If so, local child support agencies are ready to help you.

Changing Your Child Support Amount

A new court order must be signed and filed with the court to change the amount of child support due for your case. It does not happen automatically when you lose your job or your pay is reduced.

California law allows for modification (adjustment) of a child support order when there is a change of circumstance. If a modification is requested, the amount of support ordered may go up or down. Changes to your support order are effective on the date ordered by the court. For more information on how child support is calculated, see our brochure titled, "How is the Amount of My Child Support Determined".

■ When should I consider a modification?

You can ask for a modification if one or more of the following circumstances change:

- You are laid off or fired from your job.
- You get a new or additional job, which changes your income.
- Your income or the other parent's income increases or decreases.
- The custody or visitation agreement changes.
- You become disabled.
- You are deployed to active military duty.

■ How do I ask for a modification?

Contact your local child support agency at: 1(866) 901-3212, or <http://www.childsup.ca.gov/Home/LCSAOffices/tabid/301/Default.aspx>.

■ What do I need to provide?

In order for a local child support agency to review your case for modification, you will need to provide information such as:

- Income and expenses
- Child care expenses
- Medical insurance
- Disability (SSI, SDI, SSA, etc.)
- Unemployment benefits/severance package
- Retirement income
- Custody and visitation arrangements
